These courses are held on The University of Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, unless otherwise noted.

The course fee includes course materials, photos required for accreditation, parking, and lunch on the full-day courses.

If you want to take any of our courses, please register at least 14 days in advance of the class. We will make a decision to hold or cancel a course, based on enrollment, between 7 and 14 days before the class. If we cancel a course, we will issue you a full refund and notify you at least 7 days before the class. If you are not registered, we will not know to call you.

We are now offering four new Energy Efficiency Training Certificates for Building Managers, Engineers, Auditors, and Maintenance and Construction Workers. These certificate programs are offered online and are available 24/7. Managers will gain workable knowledge of developing and maintaining an Energy Efficient system. Information is provided to help with management decisions concerning the energy efficiency mission. Engineers gain workable knowledge of designing and maintaining an Energy Efficient System. Specific information is taught concerning practical design theory, best practice and maintenance to meet the tenets of the mission of energy efficiency. Auditors will learn details of an audit that are critical to designing, maintaining, and cost projecting Energy Efficient Systems. Emphasis is placed on recognizing ways to improve existing energy efficiency based on established industry standards along with company policies and procedures. Workers will learn best practice and maintenance to meet the energy efficiency mission and ways to improve existing energy efficiency based on existing standards.
